I agree to attend all required briefings and orientations, and to follow all health and safety instructions given by staff throughout the program.

By signing this document, I acknowledge that I am also required to comply with any related program policies and procedures provided to me before travel. A summary of those policies and where to read them in full is on page 3.

If Something Goes Wrong: Reporting

You have a duty to report any suspected or observed safeguarding concern, health and safety issue, serious incident, or policy breach – as soon as possible, and within 24 hours.

First point of contact

Your in-country manager, a CA/FSF staff member, or the designated safeguarding officer on your program.

If you can't report locally, contact the Global Management team directly: safeguarding@challengesabroad.com

You are protected under our Whistleblowing Policy when you report in good faith. Confidentiality is maintained on a need-to-know basis, and retaliation against anyone who reports in good faith is itself a disciplinary offence.

If a child or vulnerable person discloses something to you:

- Stay calm. Listen without interrupting or asking leading questions.
- Don't take them somewhere private or isolated – find a quiet but visible spot.
- Reassure them they did the right thing. Don't promise to keep it secret.
- Stay with them, then report it immediately through the channels above.

If your child is travelling with us, these four policies together describe how we safeguard participants and the communities we work alongside.

We encourage you to read through them with your student before departure. For any questions about the program, safeguarding, or our policies, contact us or speak to your program coordinator.
